

WILSON'S SPEECH ON HUN DUPLICITY GOES TO HEART OF MATTER, LONDON ATTITUDE

Words of President Given Usual Prominence by Great Newspapers.

IMMEDIATELY VERY LIMITED

ing to Late Arrival of Text But They Agree That Keynote Has Again Been Struck; Parliament Opens for Its Longest Session.

By Associated Press. * LONDON, Feb. 12.—President Wilson's address is given the same prominence that all his utterances receive the morning newspapers, but the reached the papers too late for more than perfunctory comment on the outstanding sentences. The president's attitude toward the speech Count von Hertling received the attention and in this the President is regarded as having gone to heart of the matter.

In the address The Times sees an important refutation of "the Bolshevik illusion that Prussian militarism can be exercised by rhetoric" commends the serene confidence which President Wilson adheres to the belief that the war will not end without establishing the reign of right justice.

The Daily News believes that it was an accident that the President's address was delivered on the eve of a new session of the British Parliament and that its significance will not be lost on the House of Commons.

Members of both houses of Parliament assembled early today for the opening of the eighth session of the parliament in modern times, a session which is virtually certain to be the last and which will be followed by a general election upon extended debate with women voting for the first time in the country's history.

King George accompanied by the queen and the Prince of Wales, who left from the Italian front, attended the opening ceremony at 11.

was decided that in view of the the peers and peeresses would not wear their gorgeous robes and coronets, while the naval and military members of both houses would wear service dress instead of the classical full dress uniform.

AT ACTIVITY REPORTED ON AMERICAN ARMY IN

ENCE, Feb. 12.—It was bright and rainy and a considerable number of aircraft hovered over the American sector. The enemy machines were busy taking photographs and making observations and a number of lights resulted. One group of enemy airplanes flew so low they became targets for anti-aircraft and machine guns and were shot off.

The artillery continued active on both sides. The enemy dropped shells a number of villages behind the American lines and the American army replied. Only one man was killed during the past 24 hours. He was injured by a bursting shell in a village behind the American lines. The regulations for Lent were read Sunday in all the Catholic churches of the diocese. Accompanying the regulations is a special letter calling special attention to matters pertaining to war. One of the matters specially provided for in the regulations is that men in the army and navy service are permitted to eat meat on all days except Ash Wednesday, Good Friday and the forenoon of Holy Saturday.

The distribution of ashes will take place at the masses at the Immaculate Conception church tomorrow, and throughout the Lenten season, there will be a sermon and benediction on Wednesday and Sunday evenings. On Friday afternoons and evenings there will be the Stations of the Cross.

River, Gorged With Ice, Rising Two Feet an Hour.

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 12.—With the at this point showing a stage 5 early today and continuing to at a rate of two feet an hour men contend that only the breaking of the ice gorge below this city will save it from a disastrous flood. RUSS COLLAPSE NOT ALARMING TO WASHINGTON

Military Authorities Believe Allies Will Stand Firm in West.

HUN PRISONERS ASSET

Their Return to Fatherland Sure to Spread the Bolshevik Propaganda; Germany May Attempt to Keep Back the Hordes Soon to be Released.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—How Russia's complete withdrawal from the war will affect the Allies and the United States in a military way cannot be accurately estimated at this time, officials here believe, despite the fact that on paper the Russian collapse would seem to give the Germans a great numerical superiority of troops on the western front.

Officially there is nothing to be said on the subject because the government has no official information. Military men, however, confident that the allied lines on the west front will hold against any German force that can be thrown against it, profess not to regard the Russian separate peace as the menace it would appear on paper.

The fact that 1,500,000 German prisoners will be free to return to Germany is regarded with no alarm at all. The general opinion here is that Germany would be more interested in keeping the prisoners in Russia than risk having them carry Bolshevik doctrines back to Germany.

RUSS-CENTRAL POWERS

FRANCE FACT CONFIRMED.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Confirmation of the German report that Russia has withdrawn from the war is contained in an official Russian statement received here today.

The statement says Russia declares the war with Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria to be ended. Russian troops simultaneously received orders for complete demobilization on all fronts. For the defense of the frontier some detachments of younger soldiers will be left.

The peace negotiations with the Central Powers have been ended, the statement says. Nevertheless Russia will not continue the war with the German and Austrian "workmen and peasants like ourselves."

Although this announcement was made yesterday in dispatches from German sources, this is the first word from Russia regarding her withdrawal from the war.

Major Duggan in his proclamation said: "Whereas by proclamation of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, this week is being observed as National Loyalty Week, to assist in bringing to the attention of the citizens of Connellsville the object of the observance and to impress upon all Americans the urgent necessity of combating insidious pro-German propaganda with wholesome American propaganda, I appeal to all citizens to cooperate in this movement of true devotion to American principles."

"Speakers will discuss the important question of loyalty to America. A parade and music have been arranged to its purpose. REBATE PROBABLE

Water Company Will Do What Is "Just and Right."

That the Connellsville Water company will rebate persons without water due to freezing of the mains during the past month was intimated today. While saying he had not yet taken the matter up with the water company and hence was unable to speak authoritatively Superintendent A. E. Halstead expressed the belief that the company will do "what is right and just."

The thawing weather has had no effect yet on the frozen lines, the heat having penetrated less than six inches into the soil, but the West Penn thawing squad is at work, Mr. Halstead said.

NO SUBSTITUTES ON HAND, NO FLOUR WILL BE DELIVERED

Is County Administrator's Instructions to the Food Dealers.

NO EXCEPTIONS TO RULE

Orders Cannot Even Be Taken With Delivery Promised Later; Scarcity and Prices of Substitutes to Have Attention of Food Administrator.

At a conference between the wholesale and retail food dealers of the county and County Food Administrator Charles L. Davidson, held in Uniontown yesterday, the application of the regulations affecting food conservation were discussed and several points cleared up by Administrator Davidson. Among these were that, "under no conditions, whatever, must one pound of flour be sold unless a pound of officially recognized substitute is sold also."

Administrator Davidson pointed out that there are no exceptions to this rule and that when dealers do not have sufficient substitutes on hand to deliver with the flour they must refuse to accept the order. Taking orders for flour, with the delivery of the substitute later is considered an evasion of the order. It was announced that State Administrator Heinz has rescinded the order permitting potatoes being sold as a flour substitute.

Administrator Davidson stated that the State Food Administration is concentrating its efforts upon increasing the supply of wheat flour substitutes, the scarcity of which has become very pronounced in some quarters. At the same time there has been a rise in prices which Mr. Davidson declared would be made the subject of investigation with a view to ascertaining who has been responsible.

The dealers present formed a temporary organization "for the period of the emergency" for their mutual benefit, and appointed a committee to secure an adequate supply of flour substitutes and arrange for its equitable distribution among dealers of the county.

RIVER RISES AGAIN

Reaches Maximum Stage During the Night; Falling Today.

Although the Young river rose from 6 to 6.30 feet during the night no damage was done to property along the shore, and the backwater at Bidwell did not increase enough to cover the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The ice in the upper part of the river has not gone out yet, however. The river reached its lower stage yesterday when it fell back from 6.30 feet of the previous afternoon to 6 feet. During the night it rose considerably, however, but is again falling.

It has not been necessary for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company to dynamite the gorge above Obiopolis again as the water has not risen sufficiently to endanger the traffic. Improved weather conditions are helping in transportation and a continuance of the weather will do much to relieve the railroads of congestion.

COUNCIL PROPOSES APPEAL TO PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR WATER SHORTAGE RELIEF

UTTS PROPOSES THAT CITY BUY TRUCKS TO REMOVE THE GARBAGE

Council Promptly Adopts Suggestion and Authorizes Purchasing Agent to Secure Bids.

A new plan for garbage removal is to be worked out by Dr. C. W. Utts, superintendent of the Department of Parks and Public Property of the city. According to a brief outline he made at the meeting of council last night it is proposed to have collections made by the city, instead of by contractors.

In preparation for going at the project in a business like manner, council, at the suggestion of Dr. Utts, authorized Purchasing Agent Roy W. Hoover to advertise for bids for a motor truck which is to be used in place of teams. Eventually a second truck will be purchased.

Until a truck is available Dr. Utts will arrange for a team of two. It was suggested he hire one of M. Derocin's. Mr. Derocin, who gave up the garbage contract on January 31, was to have made settlement yesterday of $300 owing the city but had not done so up to last evening. It was stated.

Bids for the trucks are to be in the hands of the purchasing agent by the evening of February 23, on which date another meeting of council will be held.

At the same time bids will be received for a street sweeper. Representatives of concerns ranking sweepers and flushers were at the meeting but council decided not to consider any of the offers until a committee has witnessed demonstrations of what the machines will do. One is in use at Scottsdale and the others are going to the Mill Town soon to see it at work.

Council adopted a resolution authorizing the payment when funds are available, of approximately $425 owing the Haines-Kurtz company for the construction of a sewer on the South Side under an agreement made with the old borough of Connellsville seven years ago. The council at that time agreed to take over the system at least at the end of three years, but the matter had been hanging over. In a communication to council City Solicitor E. C. Higbee advised that it be paid.

COUNCIL ADOPTS THE HOG ORDINANCE BY VOTE OF FOUR TO ONE

Restrictive Measure Becomes Effective in Ten Days After Its Passage

With four votes in favor of it and one against the ordinance permitting the raising of hogs in the city was adopted by council last night. Dr. C. W. Utts was the lone member voting against the measure. Instead of permitting the raising of porkers within the city limits Dr. Utts proposed a community hog pen somewhere in the country to which the garbage could be removed and converted into meat. Whether the suggestion will be adopted is a matter yet to be decided.

The hog measure was read at length a second time, an unusual procedure in council, in order that it might be thoroughly understood. "Some people," said the Mayor John Duggan, "have the idea they are going to raise hogs on Brunswick Corner. They'll see they can't." The most stringent provision in the ordinance is that which prohibits pens within 100 feet of any street or dwelling, which limits the business to the outskirts of the city alone.

Dr. Utts objected to the ordinance on the grounds that it would be much more offensive than from stables and because he said it would tend to provide breeding places for flies. Councilman Hoover expressed the belief that there would be a lot of complaint against the ordinance but he finally voted for it.

The ordinance will become effective 10 days after passage.

HAVE FEET FROZEN

Nichols and Bernard are employed in a mine at Indian Head, but were not working when they met with their misfortune.

"Picayune Policy" of Company is Given Blame for the Inadequate Supply.

HALSTEAD DOING BEST

But Superintendent is Handicapped by Men Higher Up, in Opinion of Solons; Say Company Fears to Pump Mains to Full Pressure; Would Burst.

Going before the Public Service Commission with a complaint against the Connellsville Water company with a view to relieving the shortage of aqua pura in some parts of the city, at present acute, and providing for adequate supply in the hill sections at all times was proposed in council last evening, and while there was no formal endorsement of the proposal it was informally agreed that City Solicitor E. C. Higbee should be authorized to prepare the complaint.

Mayor John Duggan, nemesis of the water company, again denounced what he termed its "picayune policy." Nobody present had any thing but words of praise for the efforts of Superintendent A. E. Halstead to relieve conditions but it was generally agreed that the so-called "picayune policy" of the company has its hands tied so that it is next to impossible for him to accomplish much. Stress was laid on the alleged fact that while the gas and electric companies take care of abnormal conditions promptly the water company has failed to do so. It was contended that one reason for failure of the company to supply the people of the pinnacle section with water is that men refuse to work for the wages paid; wages said to be lower than are in effect generally over the region.

It was Councilman Roy W. Hoover who first brought up the water question. He declared it to be a shame that so many families are compelled to carry water for long distances as if the case in some parts of the city. The company should be compelled to furnish it, he said. Mayor Duggan entered into the discussion to say that he had the water situation in his notes and had intended to bring it up. Mr. Hoover proposed that a complaint be lodged with the Public Service Commission. Superintendent M. B. Fryer of the Department of Public Safety declared that if there is to be avoided general bursting of pipes, due to the thawing of the ground, it will be necessary to act quickly toward getting relief. Within the next 48 hours he predicted a "blow up" of a large part of the system now frozen.

It was asserted that the lack of pressure on the higher levels has been in a large measure due to the failure of the company to provide adequate pressure because of fear that if the pumps be worked to capacity the mains would burst. The company is working one pump. The mayor said. It is afraid to work more, he said. He scored its failure to provide an auxiliary main from the pumping station for use in an emergency.

Opinions of members were expressed relative to the value of the plant but no one was ready to fix a value in event of the city wanting to buy. The city has $150,000 in sight, the mayor said. The company once proposed to sell for $800,000 but it has since "in a roundabout way," Mr. Duggan said, suggested $600,000. "Their idea is to sell to the city at a great big price," said the mayor, "but they must give us credit with having a little good sense."

The proposed complaint before the Public Service Commission was not, however, along the line of contemplated purchase but to secure better service. No definite action was taken. At the conclusion of the discussion Mr. Duggan said he would have the solicitor prepare a complaint.

BOYS IN TROUBLE

West-Siders Charged With Breaking Hot House Glass.

Information has been made by Carl A. Barge of West Peach street against Jerry Bernardo, Harry Miller, Edward McMahers and David Way, all West Side youths between 14 and 16 years old, charging them with shooting out glass windows in his hot house. The boys are alleged to have used slingshots and iron slugs.

No arrests have yet been made but the boys will be picked up immediately and given a hearing before Alderman Fred Munk. The West Penn will also make information against the youngsters, charging them with shooting out the electric globes in the street lights.

The work of Rebecca Hopper, soprano, "Githella" Averman Vogel, pianist, and Max Shapiro, violinist, was excellent, each showing rare musical talent. Mr. Shapiro gave Connellsville music-lovers a rare treat with his violin compositions. He displayed a beautiful tone, and adequate technique. His rendition of "Zephyr" by Hubay was especially pleasing. Rebecca Hopper has a pure lyric soprano voice of quality and resonance. In the aria, "Aida," she displayed much dramatic intensity. Her group of songs were characterized by pure diction and charming interpretation. Othella Averman Vogel showed remarkable ability. The pianist, by her light passages in addition to the full sustained tone is truly a picture of sincere musicianship.

Miss Clara Grasinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Grasinger of Uniontown, and Carl J. Boost of Uniontown, were married Monday morning in St. John's Catholic church in Uniontown, nuptial high mass being celebrated by Rev. Father B. P. Kenna. The bridegroom is a civil engineer for the H. C. Frick Coke company.

THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' CONFERENCE A BIG FEATURE OF MEETING

Of the Fayette County Sunday School Association Here Next Week U. S. School Leads in Gain.

The older boys and older girls' conference is but one of the features of the meeting of the Fayette County Sunday School association which is to be held in Connellsville on Thursday, February 21. This feature is of such importance to Sunday school workers and young people generally that County Superintendent J. S. Carroll has issued a call to the high school principals of the county to interest their students in the meeting and to urge their attendance. The names of students attending will be reported to the various principals and they will be given credit for school attendance for that day.

The report of Joseph R. Forsythe, secretary of the Fayette County Sunday School association, of attendance at the schools of the county last Sunday, the first day of the contest for increase in attendance, is still incomplete. Several increases were recorded, the highest being by the United Brethren school of Connellsville. With an average attendance of 150 during the past year last Sunday's attendance of 235 showed a gain of 56 per cent.

The school of the Christian church with 228 present gained 22 per cent over its yearly average of 186. The Baptist school came next with 11 per cent gain as shown by an attendance of 178 compared with an average of 160. The Methodist Episcopal school held its yearly average of 400 by having that number present. The Presbyterian school failed to come up to its average of 250, its attendance being 242. The United Presbyterian school, with 200 present came within 25 of equalling its average of 225.

The Presbyterian school of Vanderbilt also fell behind, its attendance being 35 as compared with an average of 120. The Methodist Episcopal school of Dawson had an attendance of 132. Its yearly average was 162. William H. Friend of Connellsville, R. D.; David Hushand, Dawson; Edmund Merdin, Perryopolis, and Lawrence Elber, Seaside, are the workers in this section who are cooperating in the collection of attendance statistics.

Watkin-Trount.

Miss Bessie E. Trout, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Trout of Scottsdale, and Watkin R. Watkin, of Youngwood, were quietly married Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. G. R. Taylor in Fourth street, Youngwood. Rev. Vohner officiated, using the ring ceremony. The attendants were Mrs. Anna Brinkley, an aunt of the bride, and G. R. Taylor, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom. At 9 o'clock a beautifully appointed wedding supper was served, a color scheme of red, white and blue predominating. The bridegroom left yesterday for Camp Lee to go into training.

BARRAGE FIRING DRILL HAS INTEREST BUT NOT LIKE THE "REAL" THING

Says John Rankin Who, With Other Artillerymen at Camp Kearney, Is Anxious to Be "Over There."

The drills which the batteries of the Field Artillery are being given in the camps in this country are familiarizing the boys with "barrage" firing as it is being practiced on the western front in France. The exercise is proving most interesting to those who participate in it, but they feel that it lacks the thrill and quick action of the "sure enough thing," as may be judged from the following, taken from a letter just received in Connellsville by a friend of John D. F. Rankin, a member of Battery D, 143rd Field Artillery at Camp Kearney, California.

"We have been having quite a bit of excitement here during the past week. We had barrage fire the last four days and this afternoon we had regimental review. This is the first review we have had since we were mounted, and it's quite a novelty. Tomorrow we have a division review. This is to show what advancement we have made in training since we came here and also to give the officers a chance to judge of our fitness. Everyone is anxious to get over there. We all figure that we have had enough of this training camp 'stuff' and everyone is aching for some real excitement.

"The barrage firing is very interesting and also exciting. We had our guns located in regulation gun pits, with all kinds of trenches leading up to them and all camouflaged. It was some job making a forest out of an open field, but we managed to do fairly well. You can imagine what a racket the guns made when popping at the rate of three rounds a minute, but in battle they must go better than three times as fast, which means still more racket. I have often heard it said that the shells make a noise like an express train, but always doubted it. Now that I have heard them I can say that they sure do."

Miss Clara M. Gyles, 72 years old, died very suddenly this morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. William M. Rogers No. 515 East Crawford avenue. A short time afterwards Mrs. Rogers went to Miss Gyles' room and found her dead. Heart trouble was the cause of her sudden death. Deceased was born in London, England, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gyles. For many years she resided in Newark, N. J. She had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Rogers since last November. Miss Gyles was the last member of the family. Notice of funeral later.

"DENNY" CLIFFORD HERE

Former Trotter Accountant Now Holds West Virginia Position.

R. D. Clifford, well known to Connellsvilleans and throughout the Connellsville region, is visiting friends in town for a day, having been called to Homestead by the serious illness of his brother, John Clifford. "Denny," as his friends have always called him, recently passed the examination and qualified as a certified public accountant in his adopted state of West Virginia. He is now manager of the National Audit company, with headquarters in Huntington, which enterprise is doing a prosperous business, having a considerable staff in its employ.

Mr. Clifford's oldest son is in the overseas forces of Uncle Sam; his oldest daughter was recently married and his youngest child, a son, is nearing the age when he feels that he can go to the front. "Denny" remains as young, spry, nimble and portly as when he was holding down the payroll at Trotter twenty odd years ago.

Home From South.

Misses Madeline and Theresa Brenner of Scottsdale are in town this morning on their return from Charlotte, Augusta, Ga., and Washington, D. C. They were accompanied by Miss Margaret Gleason, of Savannah, Ga., who will be their guest for several weeks. The Misses Brenner went to Augusta to attend the wedding of Miss Mary Byrne and John T. Wurtz.

No Police Court Today.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and makes about 80.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Fine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup. Nothing better, but why buy it? You can easily make it yourself in five minutes.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt results.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FOREIGN ENEMIES MORE DANGEROUS THAN SUBMARINES

Imported Insects and Plant Diseases Cause Loss of $500,000,000 a Year.

IS MOSTLY IN FOODSTUFFS

Would Keep Nearly 4,000,000 Men Supplied With Provisions: Importation Should Stop American Growers Able to Produce Any Plants We Need.

If it were announced that 500 food-laden ships valued at $1,000,000 each had been sunk by submarines, the people would be appalled. Especially would that be true at this time of food shortage. But, the officials of the United States Department of Agriculture tell us that conservatively estimated $500,000,000 is the loss caused yearly to our farm, orchard and forest crops by imported insects, yet we continue to import plants on which these pests come into the country. This loss of $500,000,000 annually is mostly food stuffs, which would keep an army of nearly 4,000,000 men continually supplied with provisions. These losses are so stupendous and so vital at this time that further importation of ornamental plants should cease at once, as a war measure, if for no other reason.

According to a recent report of the Federal Horticultural Board of the United States Department of Agriculture, 193 insects and 115 plant diseases which might prove harmful to American plants were detected in that year on imported plant materials by Federal and State inspectors. These inspectors admit that it is impossible to detect all of these insects and diseases, and this accounts for the discovery every year of several new pests established here.

The value of these imported plants seldom exceeds $5,500,000 in any one year, yet we are told by certain importers that it would be a great hardship on the country if this importation were to be stopped. The facts show that to continue such importation is a hardship many times greater, and all out of proportion to the gain.

Based on the growth and value of our nursery and floricultural establishments as recorded by the census of 1910 these establishments are worth today, nearly $90,000,000. It would seem that these nurseries could grow this comparatively small amount of material that we import. Our leading horticulturists, agriculturists and nurserymen agree that we can propagate any plant in this country that we now import. We would keep the money at home that now goes abroad and we would not endanger our native plants by these foreign pests. The Federal Bureau of Entomology has prepared a list of 3,000 insects alone not to speak of the large number of plant diseases, which have not yet been compiled, that would be harmful to our native plants, but which have not yet reached here. Many of these are sure to come if we continue to bring in plants which are the natural carriers of these pests.

We are already spending more money yearly, fighting imported insects and plant diseases, than the value of all the plants imported and the loss caused by these imported plant enemies is over one hundred times the value of these importations. Other countries have legislated against imported plants but the United States continues to be a dumping ground for these pests. Our system is haphazard, endangers our resources, and is unjust to the producers of our food.

The Hessian Fly, Alfalfa Weevil, San Jose Scale, Codling Moth, Citrus Canker, Chestnut Blight, Pine Blister Rust, Gypsy Moth, Brown-Tail Moth and Leopard Moth are only a few of the well known insects and diseases that are costing the country millions each year. There are scores of grubs, blights, wood and bark borers gnawing away at our resources.

There is only way to avoid increasing this tremendous burden and that is the prohibition of importation of plant materials. A Senate bill now before Congress seeks to do this and it should have the support of every producer and consumer of food stuffs. While it will prohibit the wholesale importation of plants it does not prevent us from obtaining new plants for propagating purposes through the Department of Agriculture.

THE MISFORTUNE

WE HAVE ESCAPED.

Our super sensitive contemporary writes with many outward and visible signs of inward and inexpressible emotions whenever The Courier in the interests of truth and the public good points out the inconsistencies of its attitude. Thus when we with what we believed was the proper document of neighborly concern, drew attention to the fact that the advocacy
by the News of the monopolistic control of the telephone service was a singular and unaccountable lapse from Bryanese—New Freedom Democracy as hitherto preached our arbitrable contemporary manifested all the signs of a horrified dissent. Not sufficient however, to conceal its omission of a denial that, in order to affect its proposed reform in telephone service, it would not stop short of eliminating a home enterprise in case it might not be disposed to be acquiescent to a proposition to dispose of its holdings where no great monetary loss would be incurred. Upon this point our neighbor prescribes a silence eloquent of its inability to controversy the fact that, when firing
the opening gun of its campaign, it urged the long-suffering citizens of Connellsville and Uniontown in particular and Fayette county in general, to take steps before the Public Service Commission to compel the Tri-State Telephone company to allow itself to be absorbed by its only rival.

Not having essayed the role of telephone service reformer by the "ap-pos" versenkt" methods of our contemporaries we have neither attacked nor defended either the Tri-State nor the Bell companies being without occasion to do so although we have had occasion to complain of the quality of service rendered by both. With its customary enterprise in gathering
news and its fairness in handling it,
The Courier published a news story of the very extensive damage sustained by the Tri-State company during the recent storm. The News made no effort to secure information of the conditions which made it impossible for the Tri-State to restore its service as quickly as did the Bell company. In the crippled Tri-State service, which of necessity resulted, our contemporary saw an opportunity to ply its little hammer upon a home enterprise and at the same time gain a little cheap notoriety by starting its so-called campaign.

The Courier's disposition and rule of conduct never having been to use the distress of individuals—such as sad bereavements in homes—or the misfortunes of corporations—such as partial or complete destruction of plant, as an occasion for advertisement, it declined to lend its approval to the course pursued by the News
and still declines to do so.

In its comment upon the question
The Courier has never said that the service of the Tri-State company has been perfect, and very frankly admits that of the two the Bell is better but we would not urge the utter extinction of the Tri-State on that ground any more than we would suggest the falling of our brother editor and the dismantling of his plant because he admits The Courier to be a better paper than the News. We would accord to the Tri-State company every opportunity to improve its service just as generously as we would extend a like privilege to our contemporary.

The Courier has never done that a "standard" service as the News
camouflages telephone monopoly would be cheaper and have some conveniences over two services provided everybody now available by telephone used the "standard" service. The News must admit, however that if the Public Service Commission obeyed its advice, and compelled the Tri-State company to sell out to the Bell, the rates then prevailing, even if fixed by that body to which our contemporary would apply physical force instead of lending "moral" support would not be as low as those now charged by the Tri-State for that class of service used by the largest number of patrons.

The Courier favors any and every improvement in the service of any utility and the lowest possible rate to the user that can be affected by justice and fairness to all concerned. At the same time it believes that a home people home in estate one enterprises home labor and some capital a fair show and a square deal without being unfair toward or prejudiced against any interest or individual coming to Connellsville to render public service or to do business.

Having consistently maintained this attitude and resisted all temptations to achieve notoriety, the Courier has escaped the misfortune of becoming a victim of strangled ambition, or an egotistical hernia. As Irvin S.
Cobb has so aptly written presumably with the Connellsville telephone reform campaign in mind:

The Eyes of Lincoln

God eyes that were patient and tender, sad eyes, that were steadfast and true, and warm with the unchanging splendor of courage noills could subdue! Eyes dark with the dread of the morning, and we for the day that was gone, the sleepless companions of sorrow, the watchers that witnessed the dawn. Eyes tired from the clamor and goading and dim from the stress of the years, and hollowed by pain and foreboding, and stained by the vision, and tears. Sad eyes that were weary and lighted by the vision, and sleaves and wars, now watch the stars of a country united from the luminous slopes of the stars!

—Walt Mason

We quite agree with our contemporary that we are living in an age of enlightenment. For instance, we quote from some head lines in the views of February 11 this positive declaration:

"WILLIAM LAMAR BALL
CONNELLSVILLE, SOUTH, ON BOARD THE TUSCANIA
From small time on Feb 11 we of the views of February 11 we quote the following declaration:

The name of William L. Ball of Connellsville, also a member of the same unit is not given, is either the war department or the passengers on the boat nor in the names of the known survivors.

Such accuracy enterprise and persistence have out heartiest commendation.

All the parade of the evening, needs to make it a success is a smile from the weather man.

Secretary of War Baker need have no fear of an inquiring investigation when he commends American soldiers for such a display of discipline as was shown by the boys on the Tuscania. It is only when he overlooks giving, deserved praise, that he is likely to hear from the folks back home.

The weather man too must show
his loyalty today.

Von Herling was a most unwilling subject for the operator's room. But Dr. Wilson certainly performed the operation with a steady hand and dispatch—so neatly that the operation was successful but the patient died.

Poultrymen spare that hen.

Poesia will not even get thirty pieces of silver for her husband of her allies. But she will get all the different kinds of oppression that can be made in Germany.

In making silk for airplane, which the workers in the silk mill will be doing their part along with the boys in khaki in putting the bug on Brutal Bul.

The German newspapers are gloating over the psychological effect which the sinking of the Tuscania will have in America. With the returning of officers working overtime to enroll men whom this disaster has induced to enlist we can very complacently allow the Germans to loat while the gloating is good.

THE OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

The official proclamation requiring a fifty-fifty wheat flour rationing with an officially recognized cereal is being strictly enforced by all Union Supply Company stores in Fayette, Westmoreland, Greene, and Allegheny Counties. The President of the United States has issued a proclamation calling upon the American people to further aid in the conservation of our wheat supply and other food staples to such an extent as will enable the continued support of our armies and civilian populations of these countries associated with us in the war. On the same day that the proclamation was issued our stores put it into effect. You must reduce your consumption of flour one half on the fifty-fifty basis. That means if you buy 25 lbs. of flour you are obliged to buy 25 lbs. of Cornmeal, Buckwheat Flour, Rice
Flour, or any assortment of specified substitutes to equal the amount of flour bought. If the dealer can not furnish the flour substitutes he is not privileged to sell you at all. Up to the present time we have been able to supply the substitutes and as long as we can supply them we will sell you flour, but if we run out of substitutes we must enforce the order strictly and will be obliged to refuse to sell you flour. Housekeepers heads of families and every individual should cooperate and assist in enforcing this proclamation. There is an ample assortment of substitutes to supply everybody if you conserve have wheatless days have wheatless meals. A later proclamation of the President recommends Mondays and Wednesdays Wheatless and the evening meal every day wheatless. Do not criticize the Government do not criticize the President—it is your war it is our war it is everybody's war,—cooperate

THE PARAMOUNT.

"FACE VALUE." A five part Bluebird feature in which Mae Murray plays the role of an orphan girl who goes on to prosperity, and contentment through her own efforts. In presenting the play Miss Murray qualifies as a "stunt" actress through her leap from a moving train as it crosses bridge and her amazing feat that immediately results in finding safety to shore. In the earlier part of the play the star shines as a comedienne and her talents as an emotional actress are later disclosed in the most dramatic episodes. A little girl, escapes the squalor of poverty to make her own living. One of her earlier associates follows her and brings suspicion of crime upon her. She is sentenced to a reformatory, but escapes from her keepers by jumping from a moving train into the water that swirl beneath the bridge. She is rescued by a young man who has lots of money, who takes her to his home and induces his mother to take her into the family. The young man who has befriended her proves she is innocent of the charges against her and after all the girls trials and tribulations comes the happy ending. Thursday, June Elvidge will be seen in "The Beautiful Mrs. Reynolds." Friday and Saturday Norma Talmadge will be starred in "The Moth." March 1 and 2, Alice Brady the charming screen star, will appear in "The Silent Sacrifice."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE LONE WOLF." In which Hazel Dawn, who is known to every theatergoer and picture patron, Bert Lytell, Alfred Hickman, William E. Shay and other prominent photoplayers are seen is being presented today at the Paramount for the benefit of the Navy League. So strong is the cast of players presenting this diverting melodrama that it was decided not to prevent any single one of them as a star, the entire list being made up of photoplayers of stellar calibre. "The Lone Wolf," is a Selznick-Pictures offering of exceptional quality. The story centers about the deeds and adventures of a master criminal known to the police as the "Lone Wolf." This criminal becomes involved with a band of crooks known as the Pack, through his efforts to rescue from them a lovely girl, who, he believes, is herself a crook. Eventually, the girl identifies herself as a secret service agent, but gives the Wolf his liberty under his promise of reform.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Why suffer the handicap of looking old. Gray hair, however handsome, announces advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. When the hair fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly just a few drops of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a large bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound," ready to use; but listen, void preparations put up by druggists as they usually use too much sulphur, which makes the hair sticky, at "Wyeth's," which can always be depended upon to darken beautifully and is the best thing known. By using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair. It does it so natural, and evenly—you moisten a sponge, soft brush, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, which requires but a few moments. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes glossy and lustrous and you appear years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and a medicine. It is not intended for cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MACCABEE BENEFIT TODAY.

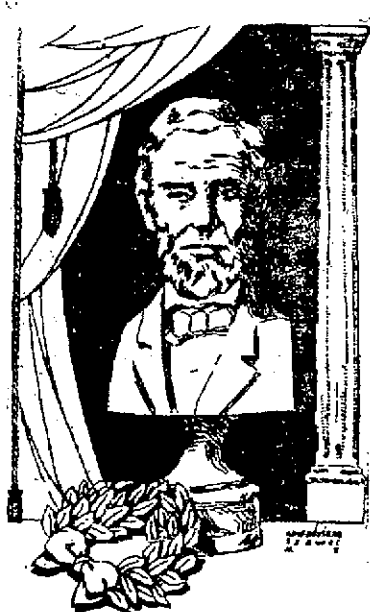

"STONE'S TWENTIETH CENTURY SHOW," at the Arcade yesterday was made an excellent entertainment by the good singing of The Jazz Harmony Four and Albert Kain, the late of the Five Famous Funsters, and the dancing of "Doc" Washburn and Andy Marcum. The latter two did in blackface the famous eccentric dance of Montgomery & Stone. The bill "Driven From Home" was more dramatic than farcical, but it was a diversion from the usual run of tabloid shows. The chorus are good steppers but what they lack in singing is made up by the male contingent. Little Rae Kiehl, a winsome miss, sang "The Storybook Ball" and received three encores, and with Mr. Kain and chorus sang "Southern Gals" in a novel way and it is a pity they did not have a newer song. Another pleasing novel feature is the introduction of the quartette and the musical oddity at the finish. "Doc" Washburn sang "The Lily of the Valley" and got two encores and a bow, as it was one of the proudest numbers on the bill. The show received much applause and the audience would have appreciated more encores. The performance will be repeated today at the regular hours and the proceeds will be donated to the Maccabees now serving in the army. The pictures will show the Lady Maccabees drilling. Tomorrow the bill will be George M. Cohan's famous success, "Running for Office," and the picture will be the second episode of "Vengeance and the Woman."

ORPHEUM THEATER.

"FOR LIBERTY." A Wm. Fox photoplay featuring Gladys Brockwell deals with the events of today. This story tells of the conditions that immediately preceded the war in Berlin and of the terror and alarm that came when the declaration was made. It is, however, a story of the life of a brilliant woman who goes through all the ordeals that beset American women who were in Germany at the time, and who is true to her country and to her love. The love element predominates and survives war and tribulation. "For Liberty" is a story of a woman's life that is wonderful and inspiring. It is set in the midst of war, and this makes it intensely real to us who know that such conditions prevailed, but who have only a glimmering of the real truth. Thursday, Ann Murgdock is featured in "The Imposter." A story of New York life that involves the adventures of a good and pretty girl cast adrift on the charity of unknown men and women after she has been felled by them as an heiress through misunderstanding.

Lincoln's Birthday

In times like these, when Patriotism issues its highest call; when the great lives of the nation's patriots are commemorated; when the spirits of men leap within them, and flame with the fire of patriotic sacrifice as they read the heroic story of brave deeds on land, in the air, on the sea; in times like these we who stay at home cannot help wishing that we could do "something like that," render to the common cause some great service.

But let us not forget that patriotism is a spirit, not merely an act; that the housewife, the farmer, the mechanic, the school boy or girl, can discharge the thrilling daily task with the same high spirit of Lincoln, or of the soldier in the trenches.

BACKACHE KILLS

Don't make the fatal mistake of neglecting what may seem to be a "simple little backache." There isn't any such thing. It may be the first warning that your kidneys are not working properly, and throwing off the poisons as they should. If this is the case, go after the cause of that backache and do it quickly, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease. Gold Medal Backache Oil Capsules will give almost immediate relief from kidney and bladder troubles, which may be the unsuspected cause of general ill health. Gold Medal Backache Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form to take, and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief, or your money will be refunded. Get them at any drug store, but be sure to insist on the Gold Medal brand, and take no other. In boxes, three sizes.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active—advis.

The corn peels off at once. You can sit at your desk or walk about, dance, think, love and work with absolute ease. You can apply "Geta-It" conveniently almost anywhere where you can take your shoe and stockings off for a moment or two. "Geta-It" dries at once; then put your shoe and stockings on again. There's no further excuse for suffering from corns and corn-pains.

According to word received by officials of the Conneltsville Chapter of the Red Cross the Pennsylvania division, of which the local chapter is a part, has outfitted the men at the Alhambra camp and Camp Meade besides making daily shipments to the navy yards for the men on the ships as they come in, partially outfitting the men at Camp Hancock, Camp Leo, Camp Greene and others. The Pennsylvania division has done as much, if not more, than any other division and the members of the Conneltsville chapter are in good spirits over the showing made in Conneltsville and this section of the county.

BROWNELL'S

Local Managers' February Cleanup Sale

It's the End of the Season's Clearance

An announcement of intense interest. The Brownell organization operating fifteen stores, was called together for a special conference last week, and the Big Chief said: "Boys, February is the shortest month in the year, and made much shorter this year by our Government's Monday closing order, which leaves only 20 days for real business. We now have 12 of those 20 days remaining, we have got to have our usual gain. Can it be done?" Sure, was the answer from every manager. "All right, it's up to you. Our usual business with a 50% gain is the slogan. Go the limit. And one word more—To every store in the chain that delivers business as usual I will issue a check of $10 payable to your local Red Cross."

So when the Boss says go the limit, it's up to you, and a check for our Red Cross, believe me something's going to happen. This old month may be short in days, but we are going to make it mighty long in opportunity. You need shoes. We want the business and your Red Cross needs the $10. It only takes business as usual to get the $10, but we are going to deliver the 50% gain.

Watch our ads. See the Shoes featured in our windows. This sale offers bargains that demonstrate the usefulness, the money-saving possibilities of the Brownell store. Spring is headed this way and our policy of clearing from season to season must be adhered to. We want room. Broken lines must be cleared. There'll be no such shoe prices again—at least during the war.

PETEY DINK—Yes, He can Wear It On His Arm

Long Live The King

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Karl's face was grave. Something of the trouble in Livonia he had known. But this argued an immediate crisis.

"On the king's death," the countess said, "a republic will be declared. The republic of Livonia! The crown prince will never reign."

"So you came today to tell me this?" She glanced up, and catching his eyes, colored faintly. "These are things you should know."

He knew her very well. A jealous woman would go far. He knew now that she was jealous. When he spoke it was with calculating brutality. "You mean, in view of my impending marriage?"

So it was arranged! Finally arranged. Well, she had done her best. He knew the truth. She had told it fairly. If, knowing it, he persisted, it would be because her power over him was dead at last.

"Yes. I do not know how far your arrangements have gone. You have at least been warned."

"But she saw, by the very way he drew himself up and smiled, that he understood. More than that, he doubted her. He questioned what she had said. The very fact that she had told him only the truth added to her resentment."

"You will see," she said sullenly. Because he thought he already saw, and because she had given him a bad moment, Karl chose to be deliberately cruel. "Perhaps," he said. "But you leave out of this discussion the one element that I consider important, Hedwig herself. If the Princess Hedwig were tomorrow to be without a country, I should still hope to marry her."

She had done well up to now, had kept her courage and her temper, had taken her cue from him and been quiet and poised. But more than his words, his cruel voice, silky with friendship, drove her to the breaking point.

Bitingly, and with reckless passion, she flung at him Hedwig's infatuation for young Lariach, and prophesied his disaster as a result of it.

In the end she grew quiet and sat looking into the fire with eyes full of stony despair. She had tried and failed. There was one way left, only one, and even that would not bring him back to her. Let Hedwig escape and marry Nicky Lariach—still where was she? Let the terrorists strike their blow and steal the crown prince. Again—where was she?

Her emotions were deadened, all save one, and that was her hatred of Hedwig. The humiliation of that moment was due to her. Somehow, some day, she would be even with Hedwig. Karl left her there at last huddled in her chair, left full of resentment, the ashes of his old love cold and gray. There was little reminder of the girl of the mountains in the stony-eyed woman he had left sagged low by the fire.

Once out in the open air, the king of Livonia drew a long breath. The affair was over. It had been unpleasant. It was always unpleasant to break with a woman. But it was time. He neither loved her nor needed her. Friendly relations between the two countries were established, and soon, very soon, would be ratified by his marriage.

It was not of Olga Loschek, but of Hedwig that he thought, as his car climbed swiftly to the lodge.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Crown Prince's Pilgrimage. The day when Olga Loschek should have returned to the city found her too ill to travel. No feigned sickness this, but real enough, a matter of fever and burning eyes, and of mutterings in troubled sleep.

Minna was alarmed. She was fond of her mistress, in spite of her occasional cruelties and lately the countess had been strangely gentle. She required little attention, wished to be alone, and lay in her great bed, looking out steadily at the bleak mountains, to which spring never climbed.

"She eats nothing," Minna said despairingly to the caretaker. "And her eyes frighten me. They are always open, even in the night, but they seem to see nothing."

On the day when she should have returned, the countess roused herself enough to send for Black Hammer, fretting in the kitchen below. He had believed that she was malingering until he saw her, but her flushed and hollow cheeks showed her condition.

"You must return and explain," she said. "I shall need more time, after all."

When he hesitated, she added: "There are plenty to watch that I do not escape. I could not, if I would. I have not the strength."

"If madame wishes, I can take a letter," she pondered over that, interlarding her fingers nervously as she reflected. "I will send no letter," she decided, "but I will give you a message, which you can deliver."

"Yes, madame."

"Say to the committee that I have reflected and that I will do what they ask. As far as I am concerned, as far as my power, I can only try."

"That is all the committee expects," he said civilly, and with a relief that he was not lost on her. "With madame's intelligence, to try is to succeed." Nevertheless, he left her well guarded. Even Minna, slipping off for an evening hour with a village sweetheart, was stealthily shadowed. Before this, fine ladies had changed garments with their maids and escaped from divers unpleasantnesses.

At the end of two days the countess was able to be up. She moved languidly about her room, still too weak to plan.

And on the fourth day came the crown prince of Livonia on a pilgrimage. The manner of his coming was this: There are more ways than one of reaching the hearts of an uneasy people. Reminiscence of taxes is a bad one. It argues a mistake in the past, in exacting such things. Governments may make errors, but must not acknowledge them. There is the freeing of political prisoners, but that, too, is dangerous, when such prisoners breathe sedition to the very prison walls.

And there is the appeal to sentiment. The government, planning all its hopes to one small boy, would further endear him to the people. Why, statesman that he was, the chancellor had hit on this to offset the rumors of Hedwig's marriage.

"A pilgrimage," said the king, when the matter was broached to him. "For what? My recovery? Cannot you let your servant depart in peace?" "Pilgrimage," observed the chancellor, "have had marvelous results, sire. I do not insist that they perform miracles, as some believe,"—he smiled faintly—"but as a matter of public feeling and a remedy for discord, they are sometimes efficacious."

"I see," said the king. And lay still, looking at the ceiling. "Can it be done safely?" he asked at last.

"The maddest traitor would not threaten the crown prince on a pilgrimage. The people would tear him limb from limb."

"Nevertheless, I should take all precautions," said the king. "A madman might not recognize the religious nature of the affair."

The same day the chancellor visited Prince Ferdinand William Otto, and found him returned from his drive and busy over Hedwig's photograph frame. "It is almost done," he said. "I slipped over in one or two places, but it is not very noticeable, is it?"

The chancellor observed it judicially, and decided that the slipping over was not noticeable at all. "Otto," said the chancellor gravely, "I want to talk to you very seriously about something I would like you to do. For your grandfather."

"I'll do anything for him, sir."

"We know that. This is the point. He has been ill for a long time. Very ill."

GRANTED RIGHTS FOR 99 YEARS

Horn Family Now Wealthy by Lease of Acid Iron Mineral Rights to Corporation.

Most everyone has read of the great medicinal iron deposit unearthed on the Horn farm down near Hickory, Mississippi and today the highly concentrated product is put up under the A-I-M trade mark of the Ferrodine Chemical Corp., which has stood for quality and strength in medicines for over thirty years.

Dr. R. C. Johnson, of Stringer, Mississippi, in a letter some time ago said: "I have used Acid Iron Mineral in my practice for a number of years and find that it has no equal as a nerve, blood purifier and liver medicine. In the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia nothing can compete with it."

Just a teaspoonful or less of Acid Iron Mineral mixed with a glass of water after meals has relieved many a man and woman of severe stomach troubles and pains, indigestion and the various other symptoms of stomach disorders and after a short treatment not only has their appetite been revived but uric acid seemed to disappear as if by magic, leaving people long troubled with rheumatism, strong again and free of pain.

"Dr. A. L. Johnson of this place prescribed Acid Iron Mineral to me," writes E. C. Keen, D. D. S., of Henry, Va., "and for the past two winters I had excruciating pains from rheumatism in my left arm. I could not raise my arm, it was so bad, but after taking about three quarters of a bottle he prescribed for me I was relieved and haven't been bothered since. In my opinion it is a wonderful blood purifier and remedy for rheumatism."

E. C. Keen, D. D. S.

Note: Neither Doctor Johnson referred to above know the other or are of any kin. The files have many people of same name who have it or a large bottle will be sent anywhere upon receipt of $1 by the Ferrodine Chemical Corporation, Roanoke, Va.—adv.

MONTH OF HEROES

Is the Distinction Which Belongs to February.

February is a cold and bitterly short month. But despite its disagreeable features, one always thinks of February with a very real sense of pleasure. For it stands out on our calendar as a month of heroes, says the Christian Herald.

It was in February that a boy was born in a stately Southern mansion house—a boy who was destined to mold the fate of a nation with his strong, capable hands—a boy who was destined to lead a country away from kings and kingly power and kingly greed to a form of government that would be by and for the people.

And it was in February, perhaps a century later, that another boy was born in a middle western log cabin—a boy whose hands were the tender though toil-worn hands that later bound up the bleeding wounds of the same nation and brought the dream of peace and brotherhood to its troubled soul.

February—the month of heroes! Washington and Lincoln are figures that live in the hearts of every patriot—Washington with his courtly grace; Lincoln with his dear, homely features and his understanding smile. And because of its association with them, February, despite its cold weather, its dark nights and its snowy dawns, will always be known and loved and looked forward to as the bravest month of all.

PEOPLE NEGLIGENT IN CARE OF MOUTH

Senreco Tooth Paste Powerful To Save the Teeth and Prevent Diseases

"All dressed up with a hole in his shoe," was a bit of sarcasm a girl flung at a young man friend whose untidy (point was new except his punctured shoes. Right enough, and either to man or woman a shabby pair of shoes would spoil the appearance of the most elegant garments ever worn.

What about the teeth? Dress in all finery you please, if you open your mouth, showing a decayed set of teeth, your attractiveness ends right there. That's a hole in the shoe for you. That applies both to men and women. Girls, and young men, you lose half the admiration which you be directed toward you if you have bad teeth. You can't be pleasing with a mouthful of decay. You can't be healthy either. The condition of the teeth have a telling influence on other organs of the body. Bad teeth affect the intestines, stomach, heart and even the eyes. Medical science shows that bad teeth produce unhealthy conditions all over the body.

With Senreco Tooth Paste at your service—a scientifically prepared preventive of decay—there's no need of faking a prey to those ill. No need of having a mouthful of decayed teeth. Used regularly on a set of good teeth the deadly germs have little chance to enter. If they should enter they can't exist long under its thorough cleansing properties. As a cleanser and preventive of decay of the teeth it is positively reliable. Advanced cases should be treated by your dentist.

Use Senreco Tooth Paste as a preventive. Ask your dentist if you should not pay all attention to your teeth. Of course we won't say our Teeth Fear you will cure Pyorrhea. If you already have it, your dentist is the doctor. Even if you are afflicted with it, your dentist than Senreco Tooth Paste will help you to get rid of it, with your dentist's assistance. But we don't want you to contract any ailment of the mouth and teeth, nor does your dentist doctor.

A preventive is the best way to have to go through the trials of a cure. Save your teeth by Senreco Tooth Paste and the probability is that you won't have to deal with foul and painful diseases. By taking excellent care of your teeth you may save stomach, intestinal, heart and eye troubles. Take all attention to keep the teeth clean and do it with Senreco Tooth Paste. GREATER CARE MUST BE TAKEN IN WRAPPING MAIL FOR SOLDIERS

Is the Caution "Jerry" Bowman Sends. Hundreds Received So Mutilated They Do Not Reach Addressees.

Taking greater pains to wrap packages which are being sent by mail to the soldiers in France is the advice of James Bowman, a Connellsville boy, and a member of the 4th Forestry Engineers now on duty "over there."

In a letter dated January 17, just received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, of East Cedar avenue, "Jerry," as he is familiarly known to many Connellsville people, writes interestingly of his ocean voyage, "about half of which was smooth and pleasant," he says, implying that the other half might have been otherwise described. He states that he is well and is enjoying the new experiences of the service.

Repeating his caution about care in making up mail packages he says that hundreds of them arrive at their destination with wrapping missing, or otherwise so mutilated, that it is impossible to determine for whom they were intended or by whom they were sent. The receipt of packages from home is so highly appreciated by the boys that the arrival of them in the condition he describes is always the occasion for disappointment. Senders, he says, must use stronger containers, wrap them securely and mark plainly, in more than one place, so that if the wrapper is torn it will not entirely destroy the means of determining the name of the addressee.

"BY THE PEOPLE"

Let us cherish in our hearts those undying words of Abraham Lincoln, the first American to reach the lonely heights of immortal fame. Take his message, carry it and proclaim it broadcast throughout the Nation; help our people to realize the patriotic duty resting upon them, each and all, as free-born citizens of this great democracy. Let them highly resolve that "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" shall not perish from the earth."

We face the most stupendous task in the history of the nation. Never before has such danger confronted us. Everything we have ever fought for—from Bunker Hill to Santiago—is at stake, and it is conceivable that the final VICTORY WILL BE WON BECAUSE OF OUR CONTRIBUTIONS OF FOOD.

BANISH CATARRH

Breathe Hyonol for Two Minutes and Stuffed Up Head Will Get Relief.

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from irritating cough in the shortest time breathe Hyonol.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely in a week.

Hyonol will end a cold in one day. It will relieve you of disgusting sniffles, hawking, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyonol is made chiefly from a soothing, healing, germ killing antiseptic that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where catarrh, asthma and consumption were never known to exist.

Hyonol is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A complete Hyonol outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyonol, costs but little at drug stores everywhere and at A. A. Clarke's. If you already own an inhaler you can get an extra bottle of Hyonol at drug stores.

The Indian Creek Railroad company has added to its equipment a new combination coach. Two of the company's engines are in the Baltimore & Ohio shops, Connelville, for repairs. Delivery is expected soon.
